INTERNAL ROAD RULES FOR OUTSIDE USERS OF VEHICLES WITHIN THE MINING SITE

These Rules apply to all outside users of vehicles on the internal roads within the mining site and describe the internal road traffic regulations which must be observed and complied with before and after loading finished products.

1. All drivers entering the mining site must read and comply with these Internal Road Rules.
2. When driving a vehicle within the mining site:
 - a. always comply with the general Road Traffic Regulations;
 - b. always observe the road traffic signs and other signage located along the internal roads and in the maneuvering areas;
 - c. always use daytime running headlights or low-beam headlights.
 - d. never clean load beds of residues from any previously transported goods.
3. The maximum acceptable speeds within the mining site are as follows:
 - a. 30 km/h on the internal roads;
 - b. 10 km/h in the maneuvering areas, when driving between aggregate heaps and in reduced visibility conditions (night, fog, snow storm, etc.);
 - c. 5 km/h when driving on, over and off the truck scale and/or the tire and chassis wash.
4. You must never overtake any other vehicles or machines!!!
5. When overtaking or passing other road users, always maintain safe distance and exercise the utmost caution.
6. When approaching, overtaking or passing pedestrians, always use a signal tone to alert them to your presence.
7. Always obey instructions given by loader operators, managers and supervisors of mining operations.
8. All vehicles entering the mining site must have uncovered load beds.
9. Before starting the loading operations, you must leave the truck cabin unless it is equipped with a special protective roof (except for road tractors with semi-trailer or farm tractors with trailer). Always wear a high-visibility vest and a protective helmet.
10. Never leave your vehicle or move around the mining site unattended. In particular, you must never come close or near the edge of the mining pit.

11. You must always:
- a. obey instructions given by supervisors of blasting works and employees securing the scattering area during blasting works;
 - b. comply with the safety regulations and audible warning sounds which are used during blasting works:
 - one long tone – a warning sound emitted to indicate that any persons remaining in the scattering area must leave the area or go to blast shelters
 - two long tones – a warning sound emitted to indicate that the scattering area has been cleared and all persons have moved to safety
 - one short tone – a warning sound emitted just before detonating explosives
 - three long tones – a sound indicating the end of danger and allowing to resume normal operations within the scattering area and to leave the blast shelter
12. You must never:
- a. come near any working machines or equipment;
 - b. go (walk, drive) through the safety zone of at least 3 m in width, running from the top edge of the lower working floor and from the bottom edge of the higher working floor.
13. Never drive on the truck scale before the traffic light turns green. You must drive with minimum speed and without sudden application of brakes. When your vehicle is on the truck scale, you must switch off the engine and put on the parking brake before getting off the vehicle.
14. Always go through the truck wash to clean tires and the chassis (provided that the wash is working and/or present). After leaving the truck wash, you must check that the brakes work properly.
15. Before leaving the mining site, after driving off the truck scale and/or going out of the truck wash, always secure your cargo so that it does not spill over the sides, leak through openings in the load bed or cause dusting. Never use tarpaulin covers before or after driving on the truck scale.

The Internal Road Rules can be accessed at www or inside the truck scale building.
